Area	Previous Recommendations	Actual Status	Gap	Proposed Strategy to close the gap	Offices Involved
AREA VI	There is an established partnership with the beneficiary community for the extension service of the college. With this, a regular needs assessment should be done to further develop the program for the beneficiaries. Also, an impact assessment should be made after every program Implementation to ensure sustainability. Aside from these it is recommended that the college specifically the CS department to continuously monitor the progress	COMPLIED - MOAs with DSWD, Franklin Baker, and C.M. Azcarate are available, together with narrative reports and post-evaluation documents. Needs and impact assessments are included in the continuing implementation of the program.	The BSIT Program has established partnerships and documentation. The remaining area is the consistent conduct and documentation of needs and impact assessments for every extension activity.	Conduct and document needs assessment before implementation and impact assessment after each BSIT extension activity. Use the results to improve succeeding activities. 	The community extension/outreach programs development plan should include performance indicators to measure success. The development plan could be enhanced to ensure continuous and sustainable community outreach projects. Performance Indicator could be included to have a more objective measure of what targets have been met.	COMPLIED - The development plan includes community extension activities, yearly objectives, partnerships, volunteer training, sustainability, and evaluation.	The BSIT Program needs to consistently monitor and document actual accomplishments against the planned extension objectives and targets.	Monitor BSIT extension activities based on the planned objectives and document accomplishments and results for use in succeeding extension activities.	BSIT Program/Faculty; Extension Coordinator; Community Partners
	Follow up training can be given to fortify the previous skill sets acquired by the members of the community. Training may also be reinforced with an assessment tool (this could be in the form of an exam or exercise) to know the	COMPLIED - FDSAP and PSITE are established linkages related to the extension activities.	The BSIT Program should sustain the follow-up and assessment of skills gained by community participants in applicable training activities.	Continue utilizing FDSAP and PSITE linkages and document follow-up activities and appropriate participant assessments when applicable. 	level of competency of the participants.
	All CES programs should be research-based.	COMPLIED - A BSIT capstone project, with project proposal, abstract, and identified beneficiaries, is used for Community Extension Services.	The BSIT Program needs to further document the implementation and results of capstone-based extension activities for the identified beneficiaries.	Continue documenting the implementation, beneficiaries, and results of BSIT capstone projects used in Community Extension Services and use the results in improving succeeding activities.	BSIT Program/Faculty; BSIT Students; Extension Coordinator; Community Beneficiaries
	Possibly tie-up with TESDA for vocational and technical training and certifications for the community.	PARTIALLY COMPLIED - A project proposal, MOU, and acceptance letter were submitted to Big Five Training and Assessment Center for partnership.	The existing partnership does not yet directly address the recommendation for vocational/technical training and certification through TESDA for community beneficiaries.	Further develop the existing partnership and document extension activities that directly provide or support vocational/technical training and certification for identified community beneficiaries.	BSIT Program/Faculty; Extension Coordinator; Big Five Training and Assessment Center; Community Beneficiaries
	NSTP programs should also tie up with CES projects.	COMPLIED - BSIT NSTP students conducted a whiteboard project as part of Community Extension Services.	The BSIT Program needs to sustain and continue documenting the NSTP-CES linkage in succeeding extension activities.
